We need a hand because something is building. It’s a need. A need across your city, in your community and chances are you’ve noticed.

A need for affordable housing. A need to provide deserving families more than shelter but a safe decent place to live, to grow, to flourish.

Not just a house.

A home. For over 30 years we've been building too. Hundreds of affordable homes in our local communities. Across Central Florida, we've been helping to build.
Building stronger communities.
Revitalizing neighborhoods. Building self-reliance, better opportunities, and stronger relationships. We depend on a community of dedicated volunteers and strong local leaders to provide a hand up - not a handout. We see it as an investment

in people,
in families, in the future. With your help, let's continue to build for you, for us, for humanity.

Because we believe
as the need builds,
so should we
